Inspired by local folk tales, and through contemporary dance, Beyond The Trodden Path meets a mystical wanderer. A collector of people’s stories. In a world that regulates our experience of nature, what does it mean to roam, to listen and to get lost? How do stories re-enchant the land surrounding us? And what magic lies in the mundane? Kyra Scott – Solastalgia. "Solastalgia" focuses on how internal grief can project itself onto existential worries through a nostalgic and relatable script. The piece centres around 24-year-old Terra returning to her hometown for a childhood friend's funeral, to avoid the nagging relatives she escapes to an old-time favourite spot and is flooded with memories from her past. However, thinking of the past so easily spirals Terra into concerns about her future and the future of this burning ball we call Earth. |
